

February 26, 2012: Great Southern Literary Festival, Albany, Western Australia

Janette Turner Hospital reads from Forecast: Turbulence in the hold of the HMS Amity, a replica of the ship in which John Oxley sailed up the Brisbane River in 1823. The ship also brought the first European settlers to Albany, Western Australia, and the ship is now anchored in Albany Harbour.

